Alternative Education Foundation is a non-profit 501(c) (3) organization providing necessary funding, research, staffing, programs, and tools to students and families whose children are not being successful in traditional school environments, socially, or at home. As mentioned, many of the children we serve are diagnosed with Autistic Spectrum Disorders, ADD, or Non Verbal Learning Disorders.

AEF conducts research projects whose findings assist in generating education and support groups for social skill development, academic advancement, and sensory integration for individuals. The foundation utilizes knowledge gained through research efforts to create schools, camps and other social activities for these at risk children and adolescents. Through such efforts, these children receive an academic education, life skills and social skill training in residential and day school programs and day and overnight camp settings.
